

SILVER STAR

Adventure

CANADA : BRITISH COLUMBIA : OKANAGAN

Silver Star Mountain is truly one of the Okanagan's best kept secrets. Mild winters and pristine ski conditions in close proximity to the Okanagan's lake and wine country make it an enviable location for any season.

With Serenity Lodge, innovative builder Tim Singdeil successfully introduces to the Okanagan the post and beam construction style, perfected in the mountains of Whistler.

Heavy fir timber post and beams with black iron connectors and natural stone accents give this home a solid constructive and visual appeal. Expansive windows invite in copious amounts of natural light and offer spectacular views, while low "e" energy saving glass ensures high standards of energy efficiency.

A foyer with a soaring vaulted ceiling welcomes you to just under three thousand square feet of living space. The entrance level provides quick and easy access to grab your stored gear and hit the slopes. Two bedrooms provide space for family and guests and include generous walk in closets and individual baths. Utility spaces include a laundry facility, ski lockers and a garage with a ski get ready area. After a day on the slopes offload your gear and scuttle on to the lower deck where a hot tub awaits to soothe away any soreness with a view of the majestic mountains.

A magnificent great room provides an elegant space to impress visitors with the rustic interior details or sensational views. For carefree days with family, an open concept area combines a cozy family area with a rock surround fireplace, a beautifully appointed kitchen and a dining room. On warmer days walk out onto a picturesque grilling deck constructed with heavy fir timber, pressure treated lumber and finished with clear Christmas lights. A sensational master suite is the ideal retreat, boasting inspiring views, a double closet and a spectacular en suite with exquisite details.

With the lower unit already sold, this is an opportunity that may not be available for much longer.
